

RSC-BMCS Bursaries

Most BMCS organised meetings offer a limited number of bursaries to help cover costs, including registration and travel, for PhD and post-doctoral applicants studying at academic institutions irrespective of their nationality. Bursaries are up to a value of £300 for one-day meetings, and up to £600 for multi-day meetings. Preference will be given to members of the RSC or EFMC and any co-sponsoring organisation (if applicable), especially those who are selected to present posters. Bursary applications are also invited from RSC or EFMC members who are of working age, but currently unemployed, and from those who may have difficulty in funding themselves or whose organisations may have difficulty in funding their attendance.

Further details can be found from the relevant meeting or by contacting the Secretary of the BMCS via the website below.
